The Pitch Canvas©: Company Edition

Simple Statement of the change you and your product/service are making in the world.

A memorable one-sentence explanation of what you do for customers.

Pain (+ Gain)

What problem is out there ifor the person or company you;re pitching to?
How big is that problem? Can you quantify the opportunity?
What are the issues that keep your audience awake at night, that you are addressing with your solution?
How much time/cost/inefficiency is the problem costing?
Be specific and quantify the pain where you can.

Product

As simply as possible: what does your product do for customers?
What is the content and structure of theproduct on a high level?
What improvement does it bring?
What opportunities do you provide for customers to be faster, more cost-effective, more efficient, happier, safer..? By how much?
Explain the product in terms of results where possible.

Product Demo

How can you bring your proposition to life ?
Live demo? (always risky, but powerful if it works...)
Screenshots? Physical product?
Video of the product working on-screen?
Can you show a real customer using it? Or talking about it

What's Unique

Technology/Relationships/Partnerships
How do you help your customers get results differently to your competition, alternatives, or past projects?
Show you have researched the market and know what competition is out there.

Traction/Success so far

Success so far? Growth in sales, growth in user numbers?
Pilot customers? Major brands?
Customer reference quotes or movies?
Customer success stories?
If a new project: what testing have you done to prove it works?
Have other parts of your/their organisation bought in?
Use data and facts to strengthen your case.

What's in it for them?

What is the company strategy?
How does your proposition fit within that strategy?
How will your offer help the company reach their strategic goals and ambitions?
Remember - nothing beats Strategy!

What do you need?

What is the objective of the pitch?
What do you want the audience to do on a macro level? (e.g. 'Buy now!' 'Allocate budget/people/time!)
What do you want the audience to do as a first next step? (e.g. 'Book a one hour follow up meeting.')
Be transparent: tell them what you want, and what the next step is.
Don't forget to ask for the order, or the resources you need!

Team

Who are the people behind the offer or project?
Why should the audience believe that you are the people to deliver them value?
What qualities do your people have - both rational (skills, experience) and non-rational (character, personal qualities) - to convince that you are the people to work with?

End statement with Call to Action

Finish the pitch strongly with a clear request for the audience to take action.

Why You?

Why do you care about solving this problem for your customers?
What makes you excited about your proposition? What are you enthusiastic about?
Why should your audience have confidence that you will deliver what you promise?
